

DIPLOMACY AND CRITICAL ETHNIC STUDIES, APPLIED DIPLOMACY (MA)

The Diplomacy and Critical Ethnic Studies concentration provides students with a foundation for applying the tools and understanding of diplomatic practice—mediation, conflict resolution and advocacy—on behalf of marginalized communities. Students will have the opportunity to place the study and practice of diplomacy into conversation with the disciplines of critical race theory, ethnic studies, forced migration studies, history and international studies.

Students in the Diplomacy and Critical Ethnic Studies concentration are required to take four courses from the following list:
