

DIPLOMACY AND GLOBAL PUBLIC HEALTH, APPLIED DIPLOMACY (MA)

The Diplomacy and Global Public Health concentration provides students with a foundation for applying the tools and understanding of diplomatic practices to mediation, conflict resolution, advocacy and leadership in the field of international public health. Students will have the opportunity to place the study and practice of diplomacy into conversation with the disciplines of behavior theory, health care, forced migration and public policy.

Students in the Diplomacy and Global Public Health concentration are required to take four courses from the following list:

Course	Title	Quarter Hours
Choose four from the following:		16
HTHC 517	COMMUNICATION, HEALTH DISPARITIES, AND CULTURE
MPH 502	INTRODUCTION TO EPIDEMIOLOGY
MPH 551	GLOBAL HEALTH INEQUITIES
MPH 552	MATERNAL AND CHILD HEALTH
MPH 553/ FMS 405	PUBLIC HEALTH AND FORCED MIGRATION
MPH 554	GLOBAL PUBLIC HEALTH PRACTICE
MPH 595	SPECIAL TOPICS IN PUBLIC HEALTH
WGS 405	MOTHERING. WORK AND REPRODUCTIVE JUSTICE	