

ACADEMIC POLICIES

All of the University's academic policies can be found here (<https://catalog.depaul.edu/student-handbooks/code-student-responsibility/other-important-information/academic-policies/>). In addition, individual Colleges, Schools, departments or other academic unit may set forth particular academic policies in their Student Handbooks or other student materials. Potential student violations of academic policies will typically be addressed by Academic Affairs. In some instances, Academic Affairs may refer a situation to the Dean of Students to initiate a Student Conduct Process in response to a potential violation of a particular policy.
