

ADMISSION

Admission decisions at DePaul University are based on a strong academic record, as well as personal and occupational achievements, ambition, energy, resourcefulness, and leadership. The University recognizes that each individual brings unique abilities to the DePaul community and works with every student through a personalized and holistic application process. DePaul University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, national origin, religion, sex, gender, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, age, marital status, pregnancy, parental status, family relationship status, physical or mental disability, military status, genetic information or other status protected by local, state, or federal law in admissions, employment, or the provision of services.

For information on the types of admission, see the Admission page (<https://catalog.depaul.edu/student-handbooks/undergraduate/university-information/admission/>) in the University Information section of this handbook.
