

DISMISSAL/READMISSION

Dismissal and Readmission decisions are made by each graduate program. Please consult your school or college handbook for additional information.

A student dismissed for a conduct-related reason, such as through the Student Conduct Process or the Academic Integrity Process is not eligible for readmission to the University. The only exception to this is a program specific dismissal, in which case the student is not dismissed from the University, only the specific program. In this case, the student is eligible to apply to other programs.
